The American Society for Nutrition (ASN) and the American Society for Nutrition Foundation (ASNF) awards program honors scientists, clinicians and scholars for significant achievements in nutrition research and practice. The 2014 ASN Awards Ceremony will take place at the 2014 Scientific Sessions and Annual Meeting at Experimental Biology, April 26–30, in San Diego, CA. The presentation of awards may be contingent upon funding availability. Awards without a current funding commitment are noted; interested partners are asked to contact awards@nutrition.org.

Nominations Instructions

- A letter of support outlining the basis for the nomination and the significance of the candidate’s work is required. A brief curriculum vitae for each nominee, including a list of the nominee’s publications in refereed journals, is also required. A reprint (or series of reprints) reporting the research for which the candidate is nominated can be appended. Please be aware that certain awards have additional requirements.
- All material for a nomination must be submitted electronically in PDF format. Incomplete or late nominations will not be considered. For the most up-to-date information regarding the Society awards program, visit www.nutrition.org/awards.
- Nominations may be made by ASN members, non-members, or any other individuals. Nominations for each award will be retained for one year. Unsuccessful nominations will need to be updated and resubmitted to be reconsidered in the 2015 awards selection.
- Nominating panels are in place for each category: Young Investigator Awards, Senior Investigator – Educator & Mentor Awards, and Senior Investigator Awards. These volunteers help to solicit and complete nominations for each award; you can suggest a candidate or volunteer to serve on a panel by emailing awards@nutrition.org.
- ASN membership is not a requirement to receive all Society awards, but outlining service to the Society is helpful when applicable.

Selection Process

- Confidential award juries are appointed each year. Juries rank the candidates based on the award criteria.
- An individual who has received one ASN award is not eligible to receive another award unless it is for accomplishments not previously recognized.
- An award is usually given to one person, but a jury may recommend that the award be given to two or more individuals who collaborated in recent research. Similarly, a jury can determine that there are no deserving candidates in a given year.
- The deadline for receipt of nominations is September 15, 2013, at awards@nutrition.org.

Young Investigator Awards

The Bio-Serv Award in Experimental Animal Nutrition
This award is given for meritorious research in nutrition accomplished by an investigator within 10 years of postgraduate training. The work recognized must involve the nutrition of experimental animals used as models. The award of $1000 and an engraved plaque is supported by Bio-Serv Inc.

Recent recipients include: M. Rowling, Z. Liu, L. Qi, R. Johnson, S. Hursting.

The E. L. R. Stokstad Award
This award is given for outstanding fundamental research in nutrition, with preference to scientists at relatively early stages in their careers. The award of $2500 and an engraved plaque is supported by an endowment from the family of E. L. R. Stokstad.

Recent recipients include: K. Buhman, R. Jacobs, Q. Jiang, M. Beck, J. Beverly III.

The Mary Swartz Rose Young Investigator Award
This award is given to an investigator within 10 years of postgraduate training, for outstanding research on the safety and efficacy of bioactive compounds for human health. The award of $2500 and an engraved plaque is supported by the Council for Responsible Nutrition.

Recent recipients include: H. Xiao, O. Chen, M. Ferruzzi, M. Gamble, S. Talcott.

The Mead Johnson Award
This award is given to an investigator for a single outstanding piece of nutrition research or a series of papers on the same subject accomplished within 10 years of postgraduate training. The award of $2500 and an engraved plaque is supported by Mead Johnson Nutrition.

Recent recipients include: L. Baumgard, J. Loor, J. Collins, A. Buchman, D. Lee Alekel.

The Norman Kretchmer Memorial Award in Nutrition and Development
This award is given to a young investigator for a substantial body of independent research in the field of nutrition and development with a potential relevance to improving child health. The award of $1500 and an engraved plaque is supported by Abbott Nutrition.

Recent recipients include: L. Bode, Y. Pan, D. Dolinoy, M. I. Goran, U. Ramakrishnan.

The Peter J. Reeds Young Investigator Award
This award is given for outstanding research in macronutrient metabolism accomplished within 5 years of receiving a Ph.D. degree or completing residency training. In the case of M.D. candidates, eligibility includes time of completing residency training or postdoctoral fellowship. The award will provide $1500, an engraved plaque, and $1000 in travel funds to the ASN Scientific Sessions and Annual Meeting. This Award was established with an initial contribution from the Children’s Nutrition Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine. Nominations should include 4 manuscripts and abstracts supporting the nomination, and proof of ASN membership number. ASN seeks additional funding partners for this award.
Recent recipients include: K. Chapman-Novakofski, K. Tappenden, D. Levitsky, K. M. Rasmussen, G. Kauwell.

The Roland L. Weinsier Award for Excellence in Medical/Dental Nutrition Education
This award is given in recognition of an outstanding career in medical/dental nutrition education. The nominee’s efforts should be widely recognized and should have had a national or international impact. Nomination depends on acknowledged excellence in nutrition teaching or nutrition education research that extends beyond the local institution and that includes innovations in medical/dental education. The award of $2500 and an engraved plaque are sponsored by the Dannon Institute. Nominations should include a brief summary of the candidate’s research or contribution and importance in the area covered by the award.
Recent recipients include: M. Kohlmeier, R. Schanler, P. Brannon, R. F. Kushner, R. Touger-Decker.

Senior Investigator Awards
Conrad A. Elvehjem Award for Public Service in Nutrition
This award is given for specific and distinguished service to the public through the science of nutrition. Such service could be rendered through governmental, industrial, private, or international institutions, but contributions of an investigative character are not excluded. The award of $1500 and an engraved plaque is supported by Mondelēz International. Nominations should include a selected bibliography indicating the candidate’s contributions to public service.
Recent recipients include: J. Milner, L. Meyers, P. Coates, G. A. Leveille, V. R. Young.

The David Kritchevsky Career Achievement Award
This award is presented in recognition of a career devoted to promoting interaction among, support for, and assistance of outstanding nutrition researchers in governmental, private, and academic sectors resulting in the application of fundamental knowledge to delivery of better nutrition products and information to the public. The award of $2500 and an engraved plaque is supported by Mondelēz International.

The E. V. McCollum Award
This award is given to a clinical investigator who is perceived as a major creative force, actively generating new concepts in nutrition and personally seeing to the execution of studies testing the validity of these concepts.
Recent recipients include: M. Jensen, L. Birch, C. Bouchard, B. C. Hansen, R. P. Heaney.

The E. V. McCollum International Lectureship in Nutrition
This biannual award provides a means to encourage sound advancements in nutritional science and their application for improving the health and well-being of people worldwide and to commemorate the life and contributions of E. V. McCollum. An outstanding nutritionist will be invited to lecture on a topic consistent with the purpose of the lectureship in a location that will ensure a large and broad audience. Two presentations are delivered, with one lecture delivered at the ASN Scientific Ses-
Letters of nomination should include the proposed topic(s) and site(s) of the lecture. The lecturer receives a one-time honorarium of $1500 and travel reimbursement for one lecture (maximum reimbursement: $5000). Nominations for the 2014–2015 Lecturer are due on September 15, 2013. The lectureship is supported by the E. V. McCollum International Lectureship Endowment Fund.

Recent recipients include: L. Allen, A. M. Prentice, R. Martorell, N. Scrimshaw, R. Uauy-Dagach.

General Mills Bell Institute of Health and Nutrition Innovation Award
This award recognizes an investigator whose scientific contributions advance the understanding of the health benefits of whole grains. Eligible recipients are conducting mechanistic, epidemiological, clinical, translational, in vitro, and/or ex vivo research contributing to the knowledge of the health benefits of cereal and grain components. The award of $5000 and an engraved plaque is supported by an endowment from the General Mills Bell Institute of Human Health & Nutrition.

The Gilbert A. Leveille Lectureship and Award
This award recognizes outstanding research in nutrition science and food technology. This award was created in 2009, sponsored by a group of ASN and IFT corporate partners, and is co-administered by ASN and the Institute of Food Technologists (IFT). In addition to receiving an award plaque and $3000, the 2014 lecturer will deliver a lecture at the 2014 IFT Annual Meeting and Food Expo, June 21–24, in New Orleans, LA. Nominations for the 2014 awardee will be accepted by IFT. For additional information contact awards@ift.org.

Recent recipients include: S. J. Schwartz, J. Allen, C. Weaver.

The Kellogg Prize for International Nutrition
This award is given to a member of the Global Nutrition Council (GNC) actively engaged in research to benefit populations in nonindustrialized countries, as demonstrated through publications in the scientific literature and actively engaged in training new scientists for international nutrition research. The award of $2500 and an engraved plaque is supported by Kellogg Company. The award winner will also deliver a lecture during the GNC Business Meeting during the 2014 ASN Scientific Sessions and Annual Meeting, April 26–30, in San Diego, CA.

Recent recipients include: R. S. Gibson, J. Haas, K. M. Hambidge, N. Scrimshaw, R. Martorell.

The Mary Swartz Rose Senior Investigator Award
This award is given to an investigator for outstanding research on the safety and efficacy of bioactive compounds for human health. The award of $2500 and an engraved plaque is supported by the Council for Responsible Nutrition.

Recent recipients include: W. G. Helferich, D. Birt, X. Wang, B. Ames, N. Farnsworth.

The McCormick Science Institute Research Award
This award is presented to an investigator conducting clinical, translational, in vitro, and/or ex vivo research whose scientific contributions have advanced the understanding of the potential health benefits of culinary herbs and spices. The award of $2500 and an engraved plaque is supported by an endowment from the McCormick Science Institute.

Recent recipients include: M. Meydani, E. de Mejia, D. Heber, B. Aggarwal, Y-J. Surh.

The Osborne and Mendel Award
This award is given for outstanding recent basic research accomplishments in nutrition. The award of $2500 and an engraved plaque is supported by ILSI North America.

Recent recipients include: R. S. Chapkin, M. Cantorna, D. Hwang, R. O. Ball, P. B. Pencharz.

Pfizer Consumer Healthcare Nutritional Science Award
This award is given for recent investigative contributions of contemporary significance to the understanding of human nutrition. The contributions need not be restricted to investigative work with humans as long as they have relevance to human nutrition and health. Preference is usually given to scientists in the Western hemisphere. The award of $1500 and an engraved plaque is supported by Pfizer Consumer Healthcare.

Recent recipients include: M. G. Traber, J. Stevens, B. Strupp, I. Jialal, S. J. James.

Robert H. Herman Memorial Award
This award is given each year to a clinical investigator whose research work has contributed importantly to the advancement of clinical nutrition, particularly the biochemical and metabolic aspects of human nutrition. Nominations should include a brief summary of the candidate’s research or contribution and importance in the area covered by the award. ASN seeks additional funding partner(s) to support this award.

Recent recipients include: J. T. Brenna, A. Astrup, R. Eckel, R. E. Olson, M. F. Holick.
ASN Fellows

The Fellows Committee of the American Society for Nutrition invites nominations for the 2014 class of ASN Fellows. Scientists who have had distinguished careers in nutrition and are at least 65 years of age are eligible for nomination. Membership in the Society is not a requirement for eligibility. Nominations may be made by any member of the Society. Please email nominations including a supporting statement explaining why the candidate should receive ASN Fellowship and brief curriculum vitae to awards@nutrition.org with attention to the Fellows Committee by October 1, 2013. Please refer to the list of qualifications for ASN Fellowship available at www.nutrition.org/fellows/ in the supporting statement. Final class selection will be made by the Fellows Committee. The 2014 Class of ASN Fellows will be honored at the Fellows, 50-Year Members and Past Presidents Luncheon at the ASN Scientific Sessions and Annual Meeting at Experimental Biology 2014, April 26–30, in San Diego, CA. For a complete listing of the Society Fellows, visit www.nutrition.org/fellows/.

Special Awards & Competitions

ASN offers many additional awards for graduate and medical students, faculty, clinicians, researchers, and academic physicians. We welcome your applications and sponsorship inquiries.
